Third Quarter 2026 Highlights

- Investment income of $14.4 million for Q3 2026, compared to $17.4 million for Q3 2025. The main drivers of investment income for Q3 2026 were fair value gains on Trone and Helios Fund IV.
- The value of portfolio investments was $374.5 million at Q3 2026. The movement from Q2 2026 was driven by the distributions from Trone and receipt of returns of capital from Helios Fund IV from the exits of underlying investments in that fund, offset by fair value gains.
- HFP delivered management fees of $7.2 million through its alternative asset management business.
- Net profit of $4.3 million for Q3 2026, compared to $9.7 million for Q3 2025, equating to net profit per share of $0.04 for Q3 2026 and $0.09 for Q3 2025.
- We have presented tangible book value per share for the first time this quarter, representing book value per share without the impact of goodwill and intangible assets. Since consolidating the Helios asset management business on January 1, 2026, the company's BVPS includes goodwill and intangible assets arising from the Business Combination. These accounting balances are carried at historical cost or cost less accumulated amortization, while being periodically tested for impairment, and do not reflect the performance of the company's investments or the value of the Helios franchise.
- Tangible book value per share is $3.50, up 2% from $3.44 at the end of Q2 2026.
- Book value per share up 1% to $4.48 for Q3 2026 from $4.44 for Q2 2026, HFP's seventh consecutive quarter of book value per share growth.
- Trone's operating subsidiary T2S Group Holding listed on the Casablanca stock exchange. HFP's proportionate share of the cash proceeds from the IPO was $17.7 million from Trone and $7.4 million from Helios Fund IV.

USAGE OF IFRS AND OTHER NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES

The financial results are derived from the interim consolidated financial statements prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IFRS Accounting Standards") applicable to the preparation of interim financial statements, including International Accounting Standard 34 Interim Financial Reporting, except as otherwise noted.

Management analyzes and assesses the financial position of the company in various ways including using non-GAAP measures that do not have a prescribed meaning under IFRS Accounting Standards and may not be comparable to similar measures presented by other companies.

Book value per share - The company considers book value per share a key performance measure in evaluating its objective of long-term capital appreciation, while preserving capital. Book value per share is a key performance measure of the company and is closely monitored. This measure is calculated by the company as common shareholders' equity divided by the number of common shares outstanding.

Tangible book value per share - The company considers tangible book value per share a key performance measure in evaluating its objective of long-term capital appreciation. Tangible BVPS removes goodwill and intangible assets from the BVPS calculation, giving investors a clear view of performance. Changes in tangible BVPS are driven by investment performance, fee earnings and costs. Tangible BVPS is anchored in the company's portfolio investments, which are measured at fair value, and removes goodwill and intangible assets which are held at the values specified from acquisition accounting, being cost less accumulated amortization. This measure is equal to book value per share without the impact of goodwill and intangible assets. The impact of goodwill and intangible assets is calculated as those amounts divided by the number of common shares outstanding.

Earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization ("EBITDA") - This measure is used to evaluate the profitability of the entity before certain expenses, being finance costs, current and deferred taxes, depreciation and amortization. The closest GAAP measure to EBITDA is operating profit, which is reconciled to EBITDA in the below table.
